Candidate Job Alerts

Candidate job alerts (if configured) can now be seen within the job. The job summary section has been enhanced so that the number of candidates alerted about the job is shown and it is possible to click upon the number to show the candidates alerted.

The screenshot shows the job summary interface. At the top, there are tabs for Summary, Categorisation, Interviews: 0, CVs Submitted: 0, Notes, Placements: 0, Stage Invoices, All History, and Web. Below the tabs, there is an information icon and a row of status fields: Entered: 31-Mar-2020 (9 Months), Last Added: Never, Last Searched: Never, Upcoming Interviews: None. The next row shows Profile: None, Candidates: None, CV's Submitted: None, and Successfully Placed 0. The third row shows Published to website: 07-May-2020, Published to job board: Never, and Candidates Alerted: 1. The 'Candidates Alerted: 1' is enclosed in a red rectangular box. Below this is a Progress Text field. At the bottom, there is a 'Custom Date Fields' section and a 'Latest Activities' section with a clock icon and a bar chart icon.

If many candidates have been alerted about a job, then the latest activities section can fill up with the alert emails sent. You can now filter out those emails, by right mouse clicking upon the latest activities section and toggling the 'show candidate alerts' option from the resultant menu.

At A Glance View

The job display within the at-a-glance view now displays the job location (which may be different to the company's office address) in brackets alongside the company name.
