Other

The number of extended web job descriptions has been increased from 3 to 4. This feature is only available if you are publishing jobs to the corporate web site using FTP and XML.

When moving a contact to another company, there is now an option to copy the mobile phone number across to the new employment.

A problem has been resolved where the candidate list was not included within the detail print of a job.

The date of birth field has been added to the list of fields used for completion rules.

The GDPR settings are now remembered when creating a candidate or a contact and when a candidate is created without the user opening the GDPR windows the same settings are used.
